Darren Caveney is a communications specialist, creator of online and collaboration resource - comms2point0 .co.uk - and owner of Creative Communicators Ltd.

A graduate in PR, and multi-award winner, Darren was named in the prestigious 'Digital Leaders 100' list in both 2014 and 2016.

Having hosted and presented at more than 100 events across the UK, Europe and the Middle East, Darren speaks confidently on a wide range of topics from integrating social media for business, building communications and engagement strategies, through to coping with change and communicating in a digital world.

A skilled coach and mentor, Darren also offers high quality, practice-oriented coaching and mentoring programmes. Each programme individually designed to hone the professional skills of enquiry and critical reflection across policy, practice and performance.

All participants are encouraged to join the comms2point0 network - a valuable resource providing friendship, peer support, fresh perspective and insight, essential to comms professionals working within the rapidly developing UK public service sector.
